BERNSTORFF ASKS FOR AN AUDIENCE

German Ambassador will be Received at White House Tomorrow

DRAFTING THE REPLY

Germany Admits Sinking of the Gulflight was a Mistake—Kaiser Shown to be Wrong in Law.

Washington, June 1—With evidences to show that President Wilson means to lose no time in telling Germany that the reply to his note on the sinking of the Lusitania is disappointing and unsatisfactory, Count von Bernstoff, the German Ambassador, has requested a private audience with the President at the latter's earliest convenience. The President agreed to receive the Ambassador and fixed noon on tomorrow as the time for the interview.

Inasmuch as it is regarded as certain that the American rejoinder to the German reply will have been completed, at least in rough form, by that time, the coming conference is awaited with the greatest interest.

Hardly had the official text of the German reply been received before another dispatch was received at the State Department from Ambassador Gerard containing the German Admiralty's formal admission that the American steamer Gulflight and been torpedoed by a German submarine. Apparently under the impression that the Gulflight had sunk from her injuries instead of having been towed to an English port, the British Admiralty gives the submarine commander's excuse for having violated the American flag.

The commander reported, it is set forth, that when he first observed the American vessel she was sailing under the convoy of two British trawlers, both armed and one carrying wireless. Not at that time seeing her flag, and assuming says the commander, that she was a British ship he gave orders to sink her. It was not, he concluded, until after he had fired the torpedo that he saw the Stars and Stripes flying from the stern of the vessel.

KILLS HIS BEDFELLOW.

Maryland Man Shoots Friend While Drunk.

Elkton, Md., June 1.—David Ferguson, about 45 years old, of North East, this county, was shot by John Friday at the latter's home at North East Sunday and died at the Union Hospital in Elkton last night.

Ferguson and Floyd Smith went to Friday's home Saturday well supplied with liquor and all three became intoxicated. According to Ferguson's dying statement, made to the county officials, the men retired at a late hour, all occuping one bed.

Early Sunday morning Friday arose, produced a German army rifle and fired without provocation at him while he lay in bed, Ferguson said. The ball struck Ferguson in the right arm, passing through his lung and lodging in his left arm.

Ferguson was brought to Elkton by Dr. H. A. Cantwell and Friday was placed under arrest. Friday states that all hands were drunk and that he remembers nothing about the shooting.

Friday is about 65 years old and married.

BIG CUNARDER CRIPPLED

The Aquitania, Used as Troopship, Forced to Unload

New York, June 1.—Passenges on the Red Star steamship Lapland, which arrived yesterday from Liverpool, said they had seen the Cunarder liner Aquitania, the largest British ship ever launched, which was commandered early in war for use as a transport, on the rocks in the Mersey. At the offices of the Cunard Line here it was said that no information had been received of any mishap to the Aquitania. According to passengers the ship was surrounded by lighters and she appeared to have taken in a quantity of water as she had a bad list.

The passengers said they had been told that the Aquitania left Liverpool May 19 or 20, carrying troops to take part in the campaign in the Dardanelles. While still in the harbor the passengers said they were informed the ship ran upon a shoal. The troops were taken off, they said, and the work of lightering the cargo was then begun.

Car and five occupants rolled down the 200 feet to the railroad tracks. The car was totally demolished.

It is generally believed that the recommendation will be favorable.

GERMANY AGAIN ON DEFENSIVE

Another Mighty Teutonic Effort Said to Have Expended Itself

FAILED OF PURPOSE

Thousands of Germans Sacrificed, as Was the Case When Thrusts Were Made at Warsaw and Calais.

The great battle on the San, to which the Russians fell back after retreating over half of Galicia, still rages, but the Russians assert that they have assumed the offensive and that another mighty German effort has expended itself.

Though the fate of Permysl is still uncertain, it is contended in Allied circles that the Austro-Germans have failed of their purpose to crush the Russians in Galicia and their rush forward, costing, as it did, thousands of lives, has fallen short, just as it did in the repeated thrusts at Warsaw and Calais.

The official statement by the Austrian War Office makes no claim of any noteworthy advances in the east dismising the Permysl region with the brief declaration that "the fighting continues," and asserting that there have been no serious engagements elsewhere on the eastern front.

The Russians, on the other hand, claim victories virtually along the entire front, especially beyond the Dniester, where they say they have taken 7,000 prisoners.

Petrograd, via, London, June 1—The battle on the San, in the vicinity of Permysl, is developing in favor of the Russians, according to an official announcement. Furthermore, the Russians between May 12 and May 24 captured nearly 19,000 of their antagonists.

TO FIGHT GAS BOMBS

Paris, June 1—Scientists aiding the war bureaus have discovered, it is believed a means whereby the poisonous gas-filled bombs of the Germans can be rendered ineffective.

Representatives of the British war office are here now purchasing hundreds of ordinary garden syringes, such as are used for watering flowers. With these it is planned to squirt hyposulphide of sodium into the air as the poisonous gases reach the lines. The soldiers are to be supplied with masks covering the head, soaked in some chemical coated with glycerine to prevent evaporation.

London automobile buses it is discovered, have shown an unexpected utility in the treatment of gas victims. If the victims can be picked up immediately and rushed to a hospital at a high speed it has been found that the journey through the air is of great benefit.

DEATH NOTICE.

ZEPPELIN RAID ON LONDON

Dirigibles Pass Over East End and Other Sections Dropping Bombs

London, June 1—The long expected Zeppelin raid on London became a reality early today.

German dirigibles passed over the East End and over other districts of London showering bombs.

Two young women were seriously hurt and a number of other persons are reported to have been wounded. Many buildings were set afire.

The only victims whose names the press bureau permitted to be made public were two young German tailoresses named Schrader, living in th East End. They were removed to a hospital.

Several sections of London are reported to have been attacked, the dirigibles showering both explosives and incendiary bombs.

The government notified the newspapers and press associations shortly after midnight that no reports, stating what sections of the city had been attacked or detailing the number of victims, would pass the censor until an official statement on the raid had been issued by the press bureau.

The first official statement did not mention the number of attacking dirigibles, but said Zeppelins had been sighted near Ramsgate, sixty five miles southeast of London, in Brenwood, sixteen miles northeast, and "in certain outlying districts of London" and that many fires had been reported.

This indicates that several airships composed the attacking squadron.

POPE WANTS PEACE

Tells Bishop Kennedy He Hopes America Will Help End Europe's War

Rome, June 1—Pope Benedict, at an audience granted today to Bishop Thomas F. Kennedy and a number of newly consecrated American priests expressed the hope that America would use her best efforts to bring an end to the European War.

The audience was one of the very few so far granted by His Holiness since Italy entered the war.

The Pope today granted a special dispensation to priests in seclusion, enabling them to use the convents and hospitals.

An official announcement from the Quirinal today says the Italian government will take no steps during the war that may be construed as threatening the sovereignty of the Pope. This fact has been communicated to foreign powers.

FRENCH TROOPS ARE ADVANCING

Malon Hill Reported Captured After Most Desperate Fighting

PUSHING TO SOUCHEZ

Troops Draw Near Position Which Germans Have Stubbornly Defended for Two Months.

London, June 1—Fighting from trench to trench, with the Germans bitterly contesting every foot of their advance, the French has pushed forward still further in the region around Neuville St. Vast and between Souchez and Carency.

The most violent fighting occurred in the battle for the possesion of the French captured not the mill but exroad. After a terrific fight the tended their advance overwhelming and taking all the German trenches between the mill and the Souchez sugar factory. Fifty German prisoners remained in the hands of the attackers.

This sugar mill at Souchez has been held stubbornly by the Germans for the past two months, and this is the nearest approach to it that the French have made since they started their drive in this section.

Fierce fighting continues in the region of the labyrinths, the honeycombed system of earthworks which the Germans have heavily fortified to the southeast Neuville. After repulsing a German attack the French made good the positions they captured and despite the furious bombardment maintained by the German batteries. No infantry counter-attacks were attempted by the Germans.

Le Pretre Wood and its outskirts continues to be the centre of activity on the right of the Allies' line. Artillery duels and minor infantry actions are reported from there.

COMPENSATION LAW.

Senator Martin, of Virginia, is Preparing a New Measure.

In government circles in Washington some increased recognition is now being accorded to the idea of a more liberal compensation law for federal employes who sustain injuries in line of duty. It is felt by many that the workmen's compensation act of May 30, 1908, is not broad enough.

During the last Congress seven bills proposing to increase the scope of this law were introduced—six in the House and one in the Senate. This Senate bill was offered by Senator Martin of Virginia.

None of these bills was enacted into law. At the present time, however, Senator Martin is drafting another bill of this character which it is his purpose to introduce at the next session. A number of new ideas will be embodied in the forthcoming measure.

The principal changes it would make in existing law would be:

First, a provision granting compensation, beyond the one-year limit, equal to thirty-five per cent of the regular pay of the employe during the period of disability.

Second, a proviso that upon the death of the beneficiary the widow and child or children and dependent parent shall receive compensation equal to thirty-five per cent of the wages of the deceased husband, father or son (after the expiration of the year provided for under existing law.)

Third, the extension of the scope of the present law so that all government employees may have the benefits of the act instead of only certain classes in designated establishments as at present.

SUICIDE OF JOY RIDER

Leslie Bedle, Fearing Arrest for Having Damage Employer's Car Turns on Gas

Ashby Park, N. J. June 1—Having damaged his employer's automobile in taking an unauthorized "joy ride," and evidently fearing that his arrest would follow, Leslie Bedle, twenty said to be a son of Joseph D. Bedle, one time governor of New Jersey, committed suicide rather than run the risk of being haled to court. Death had been caused by gas.

Bedle was employed by Everett Cottage. The automobile was only slightly damaged, and Bedle had no trouble in driving it back to the garage. Then he went to his home and turned on the gas.

SNEEZE BETRAYS BURGLAR.

Found Hiding Under Sofa on Which Detectives Are Sitting.

Philadelphia, June 1.—If dust had not gotten into the nose of Thomas F. Winslow, of Fifty-fifth and Market streets, causing him to sneeze, he might be a free man today. As it is, he is locked up in a cell, on the charge of having attempted to rob the home of C. W. Jones, No. 149 North Fifty-sixth street.

Jones telephoned to the police of the Twenty-ninth district early Sunday morning, saying there was a burglar in his house. Special Policemen Wooten and Seals went to the Jones house and searched it from top to bottom, finding no one. Jones then took them into his parlor and they sat on the sofa while he told them about the attempted robbery.

"I was awakened by a noise," said Jones, "and I saw a man running down my front stairs. I ran after him, but when I reached the first floor he disappeared." Jones then proceeded to describe the man as a tall young negro.

In the midst of his explanation, the detectives were startled suddenly by a sneeze. They looked around the room, but could not locate the source of the noise. Then came another violent "kerchoo,' and this time it was found that it came from beneath the sofa on which the specials were sitting. They lifted the sofa and there was Winslow, lying on his stomach, holding his nose to keep from sneezing again. He was taken beore Magistrate Boyle and held for court.

LEFT BY WIFE HE ENDS LIFE

Commits Suicide by Gas When She Refuses to Return

Philadelphia, Pa., June 1—Louis Wachenthaller, 42 years old, committed suicide by gas yesterday in his home, No. 2419 Bolton street, because his wife had left him and refused all his attempts to make a reconciliation.

According to Jacob Galley, a brother-in-law, Wachenthaller had been acting queerly of late, and because of that his wife, who is Galley's sister, left him and went to her brother's home to reside. This happened several months ago, and ever since Wachenthaller had been morose, according to the neighbors. He lost his job in a local brewery because of his actions, and spent his time writing letters to his wife to return.

IN HER SECOND TRAGEDY

Woman Whose Husband Slew Man Causes Another Murder.

Philadelphia, June 1—In a fight over a woman in No. 22 boathouse on the Delaware at Jasper street, Camden, early yesterday morning, Paul Laubrant, 40 year old, was struck in the head with a brick, and was in a serious condition with a fractur of the skull at Cooper Hospital last night. Stanislaw Wroblewski, 30 years old, of the same address, was arrested by Policeman Guthridge to await the result of the injuries. The woman in the case is Frances Wiskonski, who keeps boarders at the boathouse.

The fight started when one man accused the other of being the "star boarder." About nine years ago the husband of the woman was acquitted of a charge of killing a man he found in her room. Since then the two have been separated. A few hours before the woman was arrested as a witness in the assault case her husband was locked up on a charge of carrying concealed deadly weapons.

HEN HATCHES 18 TURTLES

She Just Would Set, So Owner Played Joke on Her

A remarkable instance of filial devotion in the lower animals has just come to light here. Last spring Lem Macey, a wag, had an old Rhode Island red hen named Sairy, which insisted upon setting all the time His patience was exhausted when he discovered her trying to set on the door knob.

Lem dug out a turtle's nest and found about twenty eggs and decided to play a joke on the hen. He fetched the eggs home, made a nice nest and put Sairy on them, remarking:

"There, consarn you, set.'

In due time Sairy hatched out eighteen nice healthy snapping turtles. (New Orleans Item)

CLEAN-UP DAYS NEAR

Mayor, While Not Issuing a Proclamation, Desires Response to Civic League's Suggestions.

Mayor Fisher has received a letter from Mr. J. T. Preston, Secretary of the Civic Improvement League, requesting his honor to issue a proclamation regarding the clean up days, and asking the co-operation of the police force in the efforts of the league. The Mayor does not think a proclamation from him would materially assist in the matter, but he hopes civic pride will manifest itself upon the part of all the pople upon the dates named, and also on other days. He will, however, impress upon the members of the police force the necessity as well as the desirability of their best efforts and activities in assisting those who have entered in the crusade against the lack of cleanliness and tidiness upon the part of the negligent.

As has heretofore been stated, the clean-up days assigned to each ward are as follows:

First Ward, June 3, 4 and 5.
Fourth Ward, June 7, 8 and 9.
Second Ward, June 10, 11 and 12.
Third Ward, June 14, 15 and 16.

The Civic Improvement League will hold a meeting tonight in the rooms of the chamber of commerce and make arrangements for the "clean-up days".

The arrangements of the Civic Improvement League are well under way to make the movement for the clean-up of the city a success. Literature, conveying much good information, is being placed in the hands of every householder, and many of our citizens have signified their desire and intention to assist in every possible way.

COMPLETION OF THE DAM

Over Six Hundred Million Gallons of Water Can Now be Banked up for City Use.

The Barcroft dam of the Alexandria Water Company, which was begun in the spring of 1913, is now practically completed, and the collecting and storing of water in the reservoir has begun.

On account of the necessity of permitting the usual flow of Holmes' Run to pass on down the valley to supply the needs below, only the surplus water in heavy rain falls can be used for storage purposes; hence it may require a long time to entirely fill the reservoir.

Barcroft dam is a solid concrete structure, 5000 feet in length, with a spillway of 200 feet, and has a total height above its foundation of about 75 feet.

The reservoir formed by the dam will, when full,, cover over 100 acres, and contain over 600,000,000 gallons, or about one year's supply, and back upt he water three miles above the dam.

The Alexandria Water Company owns over 1,000 acres of land around the reservoir, purchased to safeguard its supply. The dam, reservoir and land around the same are said to represent an expenditure of $250,000.

David J. Howell & Son, of this city, with offices in Washington, D. C., are the engineers who prepared the plans for the dam, and who have had ctarge of its construction.

HOW WE BURN MONEY.

When Japan was preparing to attack Russia and the resources of the island kingdom were being taxed to the limit in procuring armaments, a peaceable Nipponese who was patiently bearing his proportion of the public burden, was represented as standing on his plantation watching a modern dreadnought which was flying the Japanese flag. A neighbor approached him and remarked, "Are you not proud to see your national colors flying at the taffrail of that mighty ship?" "Yes," replied the man of a pacific nature, "but think of the many rice fields that magnificent specimen of marine architecture has cost."

The amount of money which has already been shot away during the war in Europe will never be approximated. It costs what would be a fortune to the great mass of humanity to discharge one of the largest modern cannon.

Shrapnel is costing the countries now at war about $18 each on the firing line. Manufacturers in this country and Canada are getting from $15 to more than $16 for each shell, the additional expense to the foreign countries being cost of transportation and, in certain instances, filling the cartridge case with powder abroad.

Close to 20,000,000 pounds of copper are being used in their manufacture, or about four pounds to each shrapnel.

The complete shrapnel is composed of three principal parts: (a) The time fuse. (b) The projectile proper, a hollow steel filled with bullets and a bursting charge of black powder. (c) A brass cartridge case filled with smokeless powder to shoot the projectile from the gun. This brass cartridge case is similar to the shell of an ordinary rifle or revolver cartridge.

The time fuse is a very complicated mechanical device which may be set to burst the steel projectile any number of seconds or feet after it has left the muzzle of the gun. It is as a delicately constructed as a watch or a safe lock and is made largely of brass and alloys of aluminum.

The time fuse is crewed into the point of the steel projectile, the projectile is filled with small bullets, usually about 250 in number, and is exploded by means of a charge of black powder seated at the opposite end from the time fuse. When it explodes the bullets are hurled over a range of about 250 square yards. The bullets are eighty per cent. lead and twelve per cent. antimony.

The cartridge case is from a foot to almost two feet long and is made of sheet brass.

"NOTHING NEW UNDER THE SON."

Marconi, it appears, will be compelled to stand on the defensive in his claim to be the discover of wireless telegraphy. It is alleded that South American Indians utilized it before the days of Homer.

Captain J. Campbell Besley, adventurer and explorer, who has arrived in New York with his party after more than a year o exploring through the wids of the Amazon Valley says that while in the Juamara region he and his party first learned of this wireless system. "We were met at the entrance of a village by a number of natives. They had evidently been expecting us, and when we asked how they knew that we were coming they pointed to a crude looking arrangement suspended between two tree stumps on a horizontal bar. Though our Indian interpreter we learned that it was a wireless apparatus for sending and receiving messages from the various tribes through out the Amazon Velley. The transmitter was a hollowed trunk of a tree suspended from the pole so that the base was slightly off the ground. Inside it had been arranged very much like our violins. It was explained that when the instrument was struck smartly with a small rubber hammer a vibration was created that was carried or miles over hills. The receiver is very similar to the transmitter, except that it is placed on a hardwood platform, the base of the hollowed tree-trunk being grounded on the platform. When the message is struck in the neighboring villages, sometimes thirty miles away,t this receiver catches the vibrations, causing a jerky singing sound. I understand that this sound system can be read by the members of the tribe and that in this way news of victories and other happenings are told throughout the countryside.

"In this way the Indians all along our route heralded our approach. We learned that this method of telegraphy has been used by the various tribes in that district for thousands of years.'

HOW SOME PEOPLE CELEBRATE.

For a number of years people in most of the large cities have endeavored to bring about as safe and sane mode of celebrating the Fourth of July which is now a month off. In many places they have succeeded, and the gradual elimination of the explosive feature, the source of so many sad accidents, has been hailed with delight. But it seems that other holidays need the elimination of disorderly features as, unfortunately, many persons would not consider they were enjoying a holiday without a row of some kind. Decoration Day, generally one of the most quiet occasions, was marréd near the Quaker City yesterday.

One man has a fractured skull and a dozen more are injured as the result of a riot which concluded the picnic of the Huskers' Social, on Brodey Farm, in Lawndale.

Two of the picknickers began to fight over one of the women members of the party and soon the whole crowd of men joined in the scrap, while the women fled for safety. As the battle progressed beer bottles and bricks were hurled about.

CONFEDERATE VETERANS' REUNION.

The gathering of former Confederates in Richmond today is one which will long be remembered as among the most interesting and pleasant of the many events which have taken place in the capital city since the close of the civil war. Many who wore the grey are now in the sere and yellow leaf, and although burdened with years, they are filled with enthusiasm. The empty sleeves of some afford mute evidence of the part they took in the memorable conflict in the war between the states. Thousands who have been born since the close of hostilities are on hand, vieing with their sires and grandsires in the reunion.

Every Southern state is represented in the gathering. Some former members of the armies of the Confederacy have made the journey on foot wearing uniforms which they used while battling for the principles of their sunny land.

Alexandrians are mingling with the assemblage, a number of former Confederates having left this city during the past few days for the former Capital of the South.

SOUTH STILL READY TO FIGHT.

The echo of the great European conflict was heard in nearly every one of the addresses that marked the exercises of the Confederate reunion in Richmond yesterday.

Clarence J. Owens, of Washington, D. C., past commander-in-chief of the Sons of Confederate Veterans, prefaced a graceful presentation of the maids of honor and sponsors with a stirring address on the patriotism and valor of the men who fought for a principle in 1861.

"But peace can be purchased too dearly, too, warned the speaker. "It is bought too dearly when it is obtained at the expense ofnat ional honor and national justice. We are a people of peace. But if in the wisdom of our statesmen and of our great chief executive in the White House its hould be decided that our national honor is compromised by the further maintenance of peace, and if the call to arms should then follow, I say here that no part of the country will rally more wholeheartedly to the support of the President and his policies than the South and none more promptly than the sons of the men who fifty years ago took up arms in the South's cause."

The speaker's reference to President Wilson provoked a storm of applause.

CHARGES AND COUNTERCHARGES.

Former Ambassador Bryce, of England, recently published a report of alleged atrocities by German soldiers in Belgium. The Germans have followed with a white book which gives horrible descriptions of Russian outrages in Galicia. While both publications should be taken cum grano salis, there is no doubt both elements are guilty to a certain extent, as charged. The Russians, according to the Teutonic statement, have been especialy cruel to defenseless, women. The Russians during their war with the Turks in the latter part of the seventies charged the Moslems with barbaric practices, but, if Germany is reciting actual facts, the Muscovites rival the Mahometans in brutality. The responsibility or turning such fiends loose upon the civilized world rests with those who brought on this fearful war.

NEWS OF THE DAY

Zeppelins passed over the outlying districts of London last night.

The British superdreadnought Queen Elizabeth was, it was said, sunk in the Dardanelles about three weeks ago.

Charles C. Neal was sentenced yesterday by Justice Daniel W. Doub to receive seven lashes on the bare back in the Hagerstown, Md., jail for beating his wife.

The Danish steamer Soborg has been sunk in the English Channel by a German submarine. The British steamer Dixiana was torpedoed off Ushant Saturday last, while on her way from Savannah, Ga., to Swansea, Wales.

Frederick Rada, professional balloonist, plunged 300 feet to death late yesterday afternoon in attempting a triple parachute drop at Wilough Beach Park, Cleveland. His third parachute failed to open. Three thousand persons saw the accident.

News from Antwerp states that the Germans are now experimenting at Hoboken with a new form of machine gun. This gun fires incendiary bullets which will inflict such wounds that any one struck by them will be wounded beyond hope of recovery.

"Give my regards to the man who made me kill my wie," shouted Vincenzo Buonemsegno as he went to his death in the electric chair at Auburn, N. Y., yesterday. Buonemsegno was convicted of murdering his wife in a fit of jealousy on April 26, 1914.

Heavy fighting on Gallipoli peninsula, resulting in the rout of the attacking Turkish forces, is announced in an official statement given out in London. The casualties of the Turks are said to have amounted to at least 2,000. The British losses are given as 300.

Ralph de Palma, driving a Mercedes, won the fifth annual 500-mile International Sweepstakes on the Indianapolis motor speedway yesterday in the remarkable time of 5 hours, 33 minutes and 55 1-2 seconds. The victor traveled at an average speed of 89.84 miles an hour.

The British government has established a blockade over the coast of Asia Minor from the Dardanelles to the Straits of Samnos. The blockade will go into effect on Wednesday. No neutral vessel will be allowed to enter the blockaded ports, no matter when they began their voyage.

George L. Newberry, a professional aviator of Kirkwood, N. Y., was fatally injured at Troy, N. Y., yesterday when an aeroplane, with which he was giving an exhibition in Rennselaer Park, fell from a height of 400 feet into a near-by cemetery. He was hurried to a hospital, where he died in a few minutes.

The Reichsanzeiger of Berlin has published an order calling to the colors all first class members of the first class members of the landsturm or the final reserve forces, not previously summoned. This order does not apply to Bavaria. Germans in Germany must report between June 8 and June 10, and Germans outside of Germany as soon as possible.

Hearings in the government's suit against the London Times under the defense of the realm act were begun yesterday. The government charges the Times with betraying vital information through the publication of a letter from Major Richardson. This letter stated the need for conscription saying that all the army reserves have now been called out for service.

Officers' casualty lists for the fortnight ended May 17 show that losses in the British army were heavier than during any period of the war, there being 423 killed, 1,067 wounded and 187 missing—a total of 1,627 during the fortnight. Since the beginning of the war 2,669 officers have been killed; 5,244 wounded, while 899 are reported missing. This is a total of 8,812.

VIRGINIA NEWS

The will of Gustavus Milhiser, president of the Richmond Cedar Works, who died last week, was probated yesterday. The appraised value of the estate is $3,679,947, of which $3,049,947 is personal property and $630,000 real. To the Richmond Hebrew Cemetery, in which the bodies of his mother and father are buried, is left $5,000. The balance of the estate is left to relatives. Employes of his household are also remembered.

Valdemar Christy, 35 years, employed by A. G. Anthony, saloonkeeper at 1004 West Broad street, Richmond, was found dead yesterday morning in a gas-filled room at 8 South First street, where he rented sleeping quarters. Investigation developed that Christy had arisen and was preparing to heat some water on a gas stove with a view of shaving when the rubber tube connecting with the gas jet on the wall in some way or other became disconnected. It is supposed that Christy, upon realizing that gas was escaping, turned it off and was overcome before he could raise a window or open the door.

William F. Hopkins, a Richmond merchant, is a member of Pickett Camp of Confederate Veterans. Hopkins enjoys the reputation of being the only Confederate soldier who was buried alive and yet lives to tell the story. Severely wounded at Cold Harbor, he was left on the field for dead and was buried in a shallow grave on that bloody battle ground. Regaining consciousness in a short while, though almost suffocated from his close confinement beneath Mother Earth, he easily scratched his way to light and air and was soon picked up by a hospital squad.

ALLEGED ATROCITIES

German White Book Makes Charges of Cruelty Against Russians.

Frightful Russian atrocities in East Prussia are detailed in a German white book made public by Ambassador von Bernstoff here yesterday. The horrible deeds which the Germans are accused of having committed in Belgium last summer could not exceed the revolting excesses, destruction and tortures which are charged against the soldiers of the Czar.

The document consits of an introductory memorial summarizing the atrocities and 80 sworn affidavits of victims and other witnesses. It is being communicated to all neutral governments.

The Muscovites are accused of turning East Prussia into "a picture of hopeless devastation," demolishing about 100,000 buildings, carrying away an enormous amount of loot, killing noncombatants wholesale, including one little girl of 2 or 3 years; torturing and multilating a whole family, and bestially attacking girls who were no more than children, old women and women just about to become mothers.

LAST DAYS OF BECKER

Condemned Man About to Retract His Denunciation of Creator

Ossining, N. Y., June 1—Charles Becker, with less than a month and a half to live, is again about to be reconciled to God, according to Father Cashin, the Catholic prison chaplain who says that he will soon retract his denunciation last Thursday of the Creator and become penitent.

The first indication that he would change from the unbeliever he declared himself to be, when in a paroxysm of anger he denounced his enemies and God for his predicament came when Father Cashin told him of God's inscrutable way.

"Then why did God allow me to come to this?" asked Becker in a calmer tone,

This was a noticeable change. Up to that time Becker had renounced his Maker unreservedly. He also had turned his back on Father Cashin and it is reported, chided his wife. He was in what the prisoners call a "death house hysteria," an experience most of them undergo when the last thread of hope is snapped.

Becker insists that he now wants to die. He asserts the sooner it is over the better. But at the same time he asserts that he never had anything to do with the murder of Herman Rosenthal and that Gov. Whitman knows that better than anybody

WIRELESS BLEW UP SHIP

Naval Expert Suspects Germans in Princess Irene Disaster

London, June 1—The suggestion has been made in the Evening Standard by Fred T. Jane, the naval author that the steamer Princess Irene an auxiliary in the British navy, was blown up last week in Sheerness harbor, with a loss of over 300 lives.

"The sudden and complete destruction of the Princess Irene in the Medway," Mr. Jane writes, "at no greater distance from where the battleship Bulwark also was suddenly blown to atoms may be a curious coincidence. Italian experiments have proved it possible to explode a properly attuned charge by wireless from a short distance. If that charge be surreptitiously placed in a magazine, everything in the magazine will go the same way. One spontaneous explosion is thinkable but two in the same district demand too much from the imagination."

SERVICES AT ARLINGTON

President in His Address Makes No Reference to Trouble With Germany.

Eulogies of America's soldier and sailor dead were voiced yesterday by President Wilson, Secretary Bryan, Secretary Daniels and Gov. Willis of Ohio, at impressive Memorial day exercises at Arlington National Cemetery. Large crowds seized every opportunity to show that the present international situation was uppermost in their minds.

President Wilson, cheered on his arrival and departure and during his address, carefully avoided any direct reference to problems now facing the United States. He was enthusiastically applauded when he declared that "greater days lie before this nation than it has ever yet seen, and the solemn consciousness of those who bear office in this time is that they must make their best endeavor to embody in what they do and say the best things in the United States.

How Mrs. Harrod Got Rid of Her Stomach Trouble

"I suffered with stomach trouble for years and tried everything I heard of, but the only relief I got was temporary until last spring I saw Chamberlain's Tablets advertised and procured a bottle of them at our drug store. I got immediate relief from that dreadful heaviness after eating and from pain in the stomach," writes Mrs. Linda Harrod, Fort Wayne, Ind. Obtainable everywhere.
